

Hi Daniil. First want to say that it looks good!

Changes (let me know if anything on this is not feasible for you)

- I like the overlay of the title but am not a huge fan on the purple. Maybe a green or dark-blue green ? Also, I think the body text should be a dark green and not black, and the nav fill could be a more blue version of whatever green you use.
- Body text would be better suited as a serif, if you have adobe fonts “book antiqua” or something similar may look nice.
- Going off the emphasis of the natural beauty of the park, add more pictures in! Especially on home page but also on a lot of the other pages, break up the text with more images.
- I think the section titles on the other pages should across the board be smaller
- Nav bar fill is too big vertically, make it thinner
- Nav text should be same font as title
- Second Image on home would go better on about page
- Not a fan of the home symbol, maybe write home
- I think the nav items could be lightly smaller and have less space in between them, so they all move to right, but home stays on left
- Section headers on about page should be treated as headers more, your title font but smaller than other sections
- Contact info should be visible on right of volunteer info so that both are visible on the page
- Images do not have to be restrained by text margin, in fact I think placing images that extend to the side would really improve it.
- The grid of images looks nice, but maybe pretend the text is also part of the grid so it alternates left-image , right – text and then vice versa
- A small footer at bottom with contact info
- Look up la chua trail and stick a few of those images on history page
- More images : ) across the board, but especially on environment page

My number is 352-215-7907, feel free to ask me or send me things to run by me.

Some of this stuff is quick fixes, but I think the main difference is the layout of images and text. Good luck! Thanks again
